Dear Customers, Vendors & Friends,

I hope this letter finds you healthy and well.

While actively monitoring coronavirus (COVID-19) and adhering to the State of Pennsylvania's business safety orders and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines, I'm writing to inform you that Champ Printing is taking active steps within our plant for the safety of our customers, vendors, and team members.

Currently, our facility is open and operating with a fully healthy team. Our entire company is well informed of both the CDC and state ordered guidance of frequent hand washing, mask wearing and staying home if sick. We take these guidelines very seriously and have re-enforced existing company policies. We also are cleaning our equipment and facility with high-grade disinfectant products daily to ensure the health and well-being of our team.

In addition, given the current circumstances, we will be happy to accommodate any request changes to your delivery, shipping or mailing needs.

On behalf of the Champ Printing team, I want to thank you for your loyalty and trust. Together, we will overcome this challenging time, keep the presses running and continue to deliver your printed materials and important communications.

Should there be any changes to the situation, we will notify you immediately. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me directly.

Stay Healthy, Stay Safe and Stay Positive!

Sincerely,
